International Conference on Bilingual Education 2021: Promoting Bilingualism & Biliteracy

Call for Proposals

The Center for Research on Bilingual Education at the National Taipei University of Education is hosting the International Conference on Bilingual Education 2021 on December 4-5 fully online. We wish to gather professionals to offer global perspectives on the education of bilinguals through a translanguaging lens (Gracia, 2009; Gracia & Li, 2014). As such, ICBE 2021 aims to provide an avenue for academic and practical dialogue on bilingual education across various cultures and disciplines in order to foster awareness and development of new ideas.

Important Dates

- Conference Dates: December 4-5, 2021
- Abstract Submission deadline: September 30, 2021
- Notification of Acceptance: October 31, 2021

Topics

Topics of interest include but are not limited to, best teaching practices in CLIL; bilingual education policy; bilingual teaching models and challenges; bilingual teacher education; bilingual teaching materials and pedagogy; assessment in CLIL; English immersion programs; CLIL; literacy, media and multimodality; information and communication technology for bilingual education, translanguaging, and classroom-based research. If your work is related to any of these areas, we cordially invite you to submit your proposal here.
